Olos

Designer: Mauro Lipparini

The Olos armchair, designed by Mauro Lipparini, represents the continuous experimentation between aesthetics and function, between balance and self-promotion. The shell is made of curved laminated wood, featuring a sinuous and pared-back design, and it is supported by the central metal swivel leg. The padded backrest almost wraps the seat in an embrace. The shape of Olos is a tribute to organic design, re-proposing that sense of humanity and naturalness with which we relate to the objects around us when we use them with captivating ease. The armchair fits perfectly in both residential and contract spaces thanks to its distinctly personal yet discreet appearance, and the purity of its subtle forms, with a cosmopolitan style.
