Panorama

Designer: Fabrice Berrux

Uniting elements, bringing volumes together, creating connections: Panorama is a project for the living area designed to create an absolutely new domestic landscape, to create collective spaces, island of comfort, real protective cocoons onto which to lie back freely. Its geometry stimulates the combination of diverse elements to transform the living area into the warmest and most welcoming of environments. The Panorama collection of padded products is based on a specific item which can be considered to be the real unit of measurement of the system: the hexagonal pouf which, when fitted with armrests and a backrest, becomes an armchair which, in turn, can be combined with additional armchairs and sofas to achieve the most diverse configurations. Customisation and creativity reach their utmost expression here, and the results that can be achieved are absolutely unprecedented. The upholstery, in fabric or leather, is fully removable and is characterised by a particular quilting on the seat.
